Clear form with stron character

The system has clearly outlined profile edges which make their design unique and geometric. The surface of the sash may be: displaced as compared to the frame, forming two clear planes, but also flush to the frame surface, forming one plane.

The aluminium profiles of the system don't have marked slant and, such as in the case of the IV 84 IN system, they form an angle the external plane of the profile.

The IV 96 AL system fits perfectly to the new facilities.
